Jeffrey

many thanks for another warm and fun visit to your home, love your staff as usual i have spent two days at Harvard trying to master how mate choice acts differently dependent on whether the gene for choice is located on the X or Y in female X/Y species regarding the 30 grand you kindly promised i know you prefer to mail checks in any case the best address is the same as last year attached is a summary of the most exciting paper i have seen on the benefits of self-insight and as a stock-trader at that !

as always
